

INDUCTIVE BIBLE STUDY SCHOLARSHIP CRITERIA AND GUIDELINES

CRITERIA

1. The applicant is contemplating making major use of Inductive Bible Study in a ministerial vocation.
2. The applicant has already completed the required Inductive Bible Study courses (or is currently enrolled in the second course) and plans, quite apart from any possible Inductive Bible Study scholarship assistance, to take a minimum of two additional IBS courses excluding independent studies.
3. The applicant is pursuing a Master of Divinity degree or a Master of Arts Biblical Studies, and is enrolled for a minimum of nine credit hours per semester.
4. The applicant has a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.3, and has demonstrated special aptitude in Inductive Bible Study courses.

GUIDELINES

1. From those students who apply, the faculty in the Inductive Biblical Studies department will select those deemed most qualified, and will determine in each case how many courses each student will be awarded. Applicants should be advised that limited funds and increased numbers of applicants may mean that honorees will not necessarily have all of the Inductive Bible Study courses they plan to take underwritten by the IBS scholarship.
2. An IBS scholarship shall cover full tuition for the specific courses for which an IBS scholarship is awarded.
3. The Inductive Bible Study scholarship may be renewed on an annual basis, but a new application must be filed with the Financial Aid Office each year.
4. The Inductive Bible Study scholarship application deadline for academic year 2018-2019 is Monday, April 15, 2019.
5. Students may obtain application forms from the Office of Financial Aid, Mrs. Amy Ellis (faculty secretary for the School of Biblical Interpretation, M205A), or the Inductive Biblical Studies faculty members. Dr. Bauer (M203), Dr. Dongell (M301), and Dr. Matlock (BC317) are located on the Wilmore campus. Dr. Miller (211) and Dr. Russell (204) are located on the Orlando campus.
